Dear Mr. McCue:

Now that another drought is upon us,
this letter may be unnecessary, but I will write it anyway.

As I see it, the sprawling equestrian center project in Pebble Beach, plus another golf course in Pebble Beach, (where the equestrian center is now)
would burden our very limited water supply to such a catastrophic degree,
that it should be out of the question. 1

To allow such an unnecessary, rather frivolous project to proceed right now
would be a huge insult to all of us Peninsula residents who are trying to save every drop of water we can.

Sincerely,

Edith Eddy
Resident since 1949

Re: Amendment to Spanish Bay Use Permit P.C.- 5202

Unthinkable!

The young forest is beginning to flourish again -- I even heard a frog croaking in the little wetlands. There used to be a symphony of frog sounds during the wet season ... And there is a promise to keep -- with the natural world and the community.

There has been so much devastation to the whole area. Years ago majestic pines were felled to harvest the sand that grew them. For what? -- glass factories, Waikiki Beach, etc. ... Later again for the Spanish Bay golf course -- a huge sacrifice. And now for a sprawling equestrian center so another golf course can be built where the equestrian center is now.

What is that greed all about? That heavy-footed trampling of what nourishes us?
